What is the Massachusetts Climate Careers Fund?

The Massachusetts Climate Careers Fund offers 0% interest loans to help Massachusetts residents enroll in and complete training programs that lead to good-paying, in-demand climate jobs such as electricians, HVAC technicians, and more. It supports both new students and those looking to upskill by providing loans that cover unmet training-related costs, such as outstanding tuition, fees, and living expenses. The Massachusetts Climate Careers Fund is managed by Social Finance, Inc., a national non-profit organization, and is funded through grants from philanthropic funders and the Massachusetts Clean Energy Center.

How does it work?

- Apply for a 0% interest loan to cover training and/or living costs while you are enrolled in an Eligible Training Program (see below).
- Depending on the program, you may be eligible to borrow up to $5,000 or $10,000. The minimum loan amount is $2,000.
- Once your repayment term begins, you will make fixed monthly payments for up to 36 or 60 months, depending on how much you borrowed.
- If you are earning below $47,000 annually (the minimum income threshold), you can apply for Income-based Deferment. While your loan is in Income-based Deferment, your monthly payment amount is $0.

However, applications are still accepted after the Eligible Training Program has started, as long as they are submitted at least thirty (30) days before the training program ends.
  - Note for apprentices: this would be at least 30 days before the end of the year of your apprenticeship for which you would like to receive a loan. For example, if you are a Year 1 apprentice and want the loan to cover Year 1, you must apply at least 30 days before Year 1 ends. Otherwise, you can apply to receive funds for Year 2 of your apprenticeship.

What happens after I apply?

- Your documents and information will be reviewed by the loan originator, Funding U.
- You will receive one of the following notifications
  - Pre-approved – You meet the criteria and can move forward with accepting the loan offer.
  - Needs more info – You may be eligible, but additional information is needed to complete your application.
  - Declined – You do not meet the requirements to receive this loan.

- If you are pre-approved, you'll have thirty (30) days to:
  - Review and accept the loan terms; and
  - Sign the required forms electronically.
- Once everything is signed, the loan originator will finalize the loan and schedule your disbursement.

How will I receive the funds?

- Your loan funds will be sent directly to your bank account (you will provide the details in your loan application).
- Most loans will come in two equal amounts ("disbursements").
  - If you apply before your Eligible Training Program starts, you will get your first disbursement approximately 3 weeks after your training begins and your second disbursement after the midpoint of your training year.
  - If you apply after your Eligible Training Program starts, you will get your first disbursement approximately 1 week after your loan is approved, and a second disbursement after the midpoint of your training year.
  - If you are already halfway through your training year when you apply, you will only get one disbursement for your full loan amount.
    - Note for apprentices: you can take out up to two loans to cover the first two years of your apprenticeship training.
- If you are receiving more than one disbursement, you must confirm that you are still enrolled in your Eligible Training Program before you receive your second disbursement. You'll receive instructions on how to do this when you are approaching the midpoint of your training year.

What documents can I upload to reverify my enrollment?

- You will receive instructions from Funding U on what document to upload to reverify your enrollment as you approach the halfway point of the training year for your Eligible Training Program.
  - Examples of acceptable documentation include a letter of good standing or a status update letter from your Eligible Training Program.

How does repayment work?

- You are not required to make loan payments while you are enrolled in an Eligible Training Program and have an outstanding loan for that training year.
  - You are not required to make loan payments while you are enrolled in an Eligible Program and have an outstanding loan for that training year.
- You also get 3 months after you complete your program, leave early, or finish the training year covered by your loan(s) before your payments start. This is called the "grace period".

- Repayment begins after the grace period ends.
- For example, if you take out a loan that covers only your first year of a two-year Eligible Training Program, you will begin repaying that loan after the 3-month grace period following the first year—since there is no loan covering the second year. However, if you take out one loan in the first year and another loan in the second year, your repayment will begin after the 3-month grace period following the second year.

How long do I have to repay the loan?

- If your loan is $5,000 or less, your repayment period is 36 months (3 years).
- If your loan is more than $5,000, your repayment period is 60 months (5 years).
  - For example, if you borrow $5,000, your monthly repayment amount will be approximately $138.89 for 36 months. If you borrow $10,000, your monthly repayment amount will be approximately $166.67 for 60 months.

What if I have trouble finding a job or my income is low?

- If you earn less than $47,000 annually ($3,916.67 monthly income), you can apply to pause your loan payments (“Income-based Deferment”) by contacting your servicer, ZuntaFi.
  - If you are approved, your monthly payment will be $0.
  - You must reapply every 90 days to keep your loan payments paused. If you do not, you will need to start making payments again.

Can I pause payments for other reasons?

- You can discuss other deferment or forbearance options with ZuntaFi, such as temporary hardship, active military duty, and more.

What happens if I miss payments?

- If you miss a payment and you have not applied for deferment or forbearance, it will be considered late (“delinquent”). If you do not make a payment for 180 days, your loan will go into default and will be reported to credit agencies, which can hurt your credit score.

What are some examples of repayment?

- Student A:
  - Student A borrows $5,000 to help cover costs like fixing their car so they can get to their training program. After finishing their program, they find a job earning $45,000 per year. Since their income falls below the $47,000 minimum threshold, Student A can apply for Income-based Deferment. Once Student A is approved, their monthly loan payment will be $0. One year later, they get a higher-paying role earning $52,000 annually, surpassing the minimum income threshold, and begin making monthly payments until the loan is fully repaid.

- Student B:

- Student B borrows $7,500 to help cover training-related costs. After graduating, they secure a job earning $70,000 per year and begin making fixed monthly payments of $125 for five years, until the loan is fully repaid.
